

St. Xavier National Honor Society Raises Money for Well in Nigeria

Each year during Lent, the Salina Diocese schedules Mission Week for the Catholic Schools. In 2006, Sister Teresita Huse, Dominican Sisters of Great Bend, Kansas, spoke to St. Xavier High School students. The students were so moved by her presentation that the St. Xavier National Honor Society raised and donated $1,200 to have a water well dug in Nigeria, Africa. The well enabled the citizens to have clean drinking water.

Recently, Sister Teresita met with former NHS sponsor, Colleen Hampton, and former NHS president, Allison Coy, to visit with them about their donation and share pictures of the well that has been marked with the St. Xavier NHS donation sign and the people in Nigeria who are enjoying the water.

The NHS would like to thank the parishioners and supporters of their bake sales and other fundraising efforts which were held within the parish to enable this donation to be possible.
